THE CIRCUS OF OUR YOUTH. WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER, BY MARK MEREDITH.

our circus was out in the back yard; We had a menagerie, too! We painted the dog a deep crimson, The cat just the lovellest blue. We danced on the big kitchen table, We cavorted over the chairs; On clothes lines we did a trapeze act-

And all of us went in on shares.

The little girls came in all smiling, The boys with the bashfulest grin; Our tent was some sheets pinned together; For tickets we charged just a pin. We dragged out the chairs from the parlor, The plano stayed in its place; But only because 'twas too heavy Such music was too hard to face !

Our band was a drum in the corner, Our clown gave us jokes that were new; We ripped up the quilts for our banners As over them lightly we flew. The acrobats vaulted like crickets. And landed, well, oft on their heads! A good many kept to their beds

Our circus was rated a wonder ! The greatest, in fact, in the world; It lasted from morning till evening, Then downward our tent-sheets were hurled. We heard the loud voice of our daddy, And this way and that way we ran: We trembled, for just after supper, Oh, then the real circus began

Two young hunters bounded forward toward the spot whither the speaker's bullet had sped. "By Jove, that was lucky," panted Dick, as he put forward his best energies to keep pace with his slender young friend.

Suddenly the first speaker paused and bent his head to listen.

"Go slow," he cautioned. "I hear something moving. I won't swear that shot ended him, and a wounded tiger is worse than a dozen others." Once more the two men brought their rifles into position for immediate action and hurried forward silently. Dick Mason, an Englishman, was some what heavy in build and found it rather hard to keep pace with his American friend, Will Burroughs, who was a splendid athlete in the best phys ical condition, so he was some distance behind him when Will crept stealthly forward and parted the bush into which he had fired. A sight met the young hunter's gaze which sent the blood receding from his face, leaving a very pale countenance, which he turned toward Dick as he hurried for ward. A huge tiger lay stark dead at their feet, while not a yard away lav the body of a beautiful girl covered with blood, which flowed from a gaping wound in her bare side, made by the claws of the ferocious beast.

About two weeks previous to the time of this oc-currence Will Burroughs had met young Mason, and a friendship, so easily formed between sportsmen, soon ripened between them. Will was an en-thusiast. This was his first real outing away from the Rockies of his own land, and he was anxious to write home to the fellows at the club some ven-tures worth recounting over their Manhattan cocktails, so he was anxious to go where he could find the largest and flercest game in the world. Dick Mason was making his second trip into Asiatic Turkey, and was well acquainted with the country, but somewhat averse to making his camping ground in the Valley of the Sheikh Adl. However, come him, and together the two journeyed into the mysterious and awful depths of the land of

This was the first real adventure they had met with since entering the valley, a beautiful spot encircled by terraced mountains, rich with verdure and abounding in wild animals and birds.

To meet with such big game as a tiger on the first day of their hunt seemed, indeed, lucky, but to find themselves too late to avert a catastrophe was a cause for disappointment.

Will Burroughs, but a few months prior to his journey to foreign parts, had received his diploma as a physician and surgeon at a New York hospi-tal, and, it was with something of a professional air that he leaped over the body of the dead tiger, and hastily bent over the woman. He noticed with a thrill of joy that she was not quite dead, though he would not have given a great deal for her chances of life. He noticed, also, that she was extremely beautiful, with that waxeu beauty peculiar to the women of Asiatic Turkey. Her glossy black hair lay in a tangled mass upon her bare white shoulders, for the white robe she wore had been almost torn from her body by the ferocious man eater before Will Eurrough's ride had brought him low. Her yellow head dress, torn from her , lay beneath her, stained with blood.

Will lost no time in binding up the wound as best he could and, leaving the carcass of the tiger in the bush, they bore the senseless woman to a cave they had discovered in the mountain side, and which they had chosen for their camping place. Dick brought several armfuls of dried grass with which to make a bed, and soon the two were hard at work upon the wounded girl, who seemed to Will to be scarcely more than seventeen years of age, if she were even that. Will noticed that Dick seemed annoved and preoccupied, and scarcely worked with the zeal of a man very anxious to save a human life. It seemed doubtful, too, that they would save it, for, in spite of their efforts, the vital spark burned lower and lower, and the short, infrequent breathing told the young surgeon that a higher skill than his alone could stop the soul in its flight.

"By George, Dick, I believe she's going to die after all," he finally exclaimed in dispair.
"Good thing if she does," was Dick's surly and startling reply.

"What!" gasped the American. "Good thing if she does! Why, what has she done to you to merit such an opinion. Do you know her ?"

"Not from Eve. But I know what she is, and she's "Why, Dick, what do you mean?"

"I mean that she's a Devil Worshipper."
"A Devil Worshipper! How do you know?" "By her dress and by her presence in this val-

She told them of her encounter with the tiger in a few words, some of which Dick could not under-stand, but he managed to glean a syllable, here and there, so that he could make out her story.

She was, as he had said, the daughter of a Yezidi, or Devil Worshipper; indeed, the daughter of one of the most powerful of the tribe. Her father had betrothed her to a member of the clan, and she hated him. To escape his presence, one day, she started out toward the mountains. She had in-tended but to be alone for a little while, for she knew that the priests would find her, and kill her if she attempted to run away. She had wandered farther than she thought, when she suddenly came "Do you mean to say that all the people in this face to face with the tiger. For a moment she stood

While they were in a quandary over this perplexing problem it was settled in a way they little expected.

Dorza disappeared

The two men had left her alone for the first time since her convalescence and had gone forth on a hunting expedition. When they returned the girl was gone and their cave showed every evidence of a struggle. The only clue to what had happened was the finding of a conical black cap which Dick pronounced as being the headdress of the male Yezidis and declared that Dorza had been found and carried off, evidently very much against her will, by her people

Will was in despair. He felt that Dorza was in heard of the Devil Worshipers that he was in their stronghold, and from all appearances they were preparing for a celebration of their strange rites.

Throwing himself down on the ground behind the shadow of a low bush, he watched the lights flicker and flare up till the hour of midnight ap proached. Slowly, one by one, the lights died out, and darkness and silence reigned supreme. It seemed hours afterwards, though in reality it was not an hour, when a low chant issued from the valley, but no other sign of life was heard. Then suddenly the music of cymbals and the soft notes of a flute floated upward on the silent night air, and Dick saw a long line of phantom like figures, lighted by the feeble same of a few torches, wind-ing down the valley. They disappeared in the darkness, and again there was silence for a brief space, when suddenly lights darted hither and thither, while angry shouts were heard, and the whole valley seemed alive with life and light.

Dick felt something was wrong and crept carefully away in the darkness. With a breath of relief he drew himself up, as soon as he saw that he was beyond the possibility of discovery, and was about to start on a wild run for the mountains, when a pair of strong arms pinioned him in the darkness, By the light of the pale stars he discerned the garb of a Yezidi in the dark outline before him, and gave himself up for lost when, through the intense stillness of the place, he heard his assailant exclaim in familiar tones:

"It's your life or mine, and I'll be durned if it's

A paly of long fingers tightened about his throat, but he had some voice left, and with a supreme effort he gasped out:

"For God's sake Will, its f."

Will and Dick were right in their surmise as regards to Dorza. She had been found by the Yezi-dis, and formost of her captors was her old arch enemy and would be sultor, Kurah Kah. It was not long before she found herself again in her father's tent, watched by the suspicious Yezidi, her story doubted in spite of the dreadful wound in her side. They would not believe her when she said a tiger had attacked her, as she avoided all mention of her rescuers, saying she herself had killed the beast. Had she told of the presence of the white men in the valley there would have been immediate searching parties organized and her friends' lives would have been in peril. They did not suspect the existence of the strangers, but rather believed that Dorza had wandered into the land of the Mohamedans, had there received the wound in her side, which she attributed to a triger, and had fied in fear to the mountain cave where they found her. They watched her constantly for fear she would again make her escape. Kurah Kah was doubly persistent in his desire to wed her, and poor Dorza was in despair. She performed her sacriligious rites with more ardor and more frequency than ever, but no help came to her. One day, as she sat beneath a tall paim some distance away from the tents of her people, and looked up at the white clouds sailing above her in the blue ether, she thought of Will's blue eyes, so like in color.

Indeed, she had never for a moment ceased to think of him and to love him. And hers was no light love—deep, fierce, constant—she was ready to die rather than give herself to Kurah Kah.

"I wonder if his God would help me," she thought, as she gazed up at the floating clouds. "He said that the God of the Christians lived in the sky; there where the clouds are. It is beautiful up there. There is nothing to make Dorza feel afraid when she looks at the sky where the God of the Christians lives. 1'll ask him. He will help me if he is good, as the Christian says."

LETTIE LE VYNE

Was born in Duneden, New Zealand, and in 1882 made her professional debut at the Princess Theatre, in that city, as Little Nell, in "Chris and Lena," with the American actors, Baker and Farren. She afterwards joined the company supporting Alice Dunning Lingard, playing small parts, during a tour of New Zealand. She was next with George Rignoid, playing small Shakespearean parts, and later joined the company which supported Bland Holt, in "The World," during a tour of New Zealand. Going next to Australia, she opened at the Alhambra Music Hall, Sidney, New South Wales, where she filled a three years' engagement in the vandevilles. Joining Thos. Hudson's Surprise Party, toured Australia, India and China, and return to Melbourne for the pantomine season with Mamie Horton, playing Columbine. She afterwards leased the Empire Music Hall, Melbourne, and acted as manageress and directress of that resort for one year, when she left for America. While making the voyage the ship, Mariposa, took fire and put into Honolulu, H. I., for repairs, remaining a week, during which time Miss Le Vyne and several other performers who were on board gave an entertain ment for a charitable purpose. Arriving in America she made her debut in this country at the Wigwam, San Francisco, Cal., May 24, 1889, with Gus Hill's Congress of Novelties. She then began a tour of the variety houses in the West, playing dates on the coast and in the Western States for three years, opening at the Empire Theatre, Chicago, Ill., with M. B. Leavitt, for the World's Fair engagement of "Spider and Ply." She appeared with that company for a season and a half, next joining the Gormans, in "The Gillhooly's Abroad," playing the leading role. She later starred at the head of her own company, in "Little Ora's Claim," through Canada and the West, after which she joined Ray-mon Moore's company, playing leads in "Tuxedo," On March 9 of the current year she made her New York debut at Trocadero Music Hall, in the bur-lesque, "La Seraglio," playing the soubrette part. Since ending her engagement at that resort she has filled several contracts with the leading variety houses in the East. She will be seen this season as one of the principals in Manager Gus Hill's new pro-duction, "Vanity Fair." Her professional career has brought her wide experience in almost all branches of her chosen field, a natural talent for the gages. She is comely and has a pleasing manner, which adds greatly to her success as a performer.

"But she is scarcely more than a child."

"There are babes among them. She was brought up to worship the Devil and to revile God. Let her lie, Will. It is the most merciful thing you can do. Will's lips drew themselves into a thin line as h rolled his sleeves still higher and grasped his calpel firmly in his hand with a resolute, deter mined look in his eye.

"What are you going to do?" questioned his

"Save her life to worship God, if there is on chance in a million," replied Will, as he set to work mending the lacerated side as best he could with mending the lacerated side as best he could what instruments he had brought with him.

Dick said no more but a cynical smile wreathed his lips as he watched the other work, and bathed the bleeding side with soft surgical sponges as Wil teries and sewed the lips of the wound together. He expected every moment to see the final flicker of outgoing life on the white, set face; but in spite of the slender chance that life hung upon, Will firmly believed he could stay the spirit in its cell-not he alone, but that Higher Power to whom he ardently and silently prayed, as he be to his task. Nor was his faith in vain, for under the application of restoratives the girl's pulse grew stronger, her breathing more regular and a fain tinge of color flickered on her cheeks, like the rekindling embers of a Winter fire.

Slowly the tiger's victim came back to life, but consciousness, for a wild fever racked her her rescuer believed that she would really live. At last the large limpid dark eyes opened with a light of reason and surprise as they met the glance of a pair of blue ones very near and very tender.

Somehow Will had become very much interested in his patient, all the more so when Dick's quesant of any other religion or sect as Le was of hers He wearied his interpreter by telling her what his religion was like and trying in every way to instil the principles of Christianity into her young heart. But the effort seemed fruitless.

There came a time when watching the convales cent girl and the young graduate became more amusing than hunting to the Englishman. They could not speak a word of each other's language, but they were both learning to understand the universal language of love most thoroughly.

It was two months before Dorza was able to walk, but during all that time Will made no mention of hunting except when food was needed, ther it was Dick who brought in the small game which constituted their meals, together with the wild berries and fruit that grew abundantly upon the Fortunately they were far from the habitation of the Yezidis and safe from intrusion; therefore, love thrived unmolested in the new garden of Eden he had found in the Valley of Kurdistan.

At last Dorza grew strong enough to be able to go about alone, and the question arose between the young hunters as to what should be done with her. Dick wanted to send the girl back to her people. but Will declared that even the Turks would be better. He wanted to take her home with him and make her his wife, but the idea that perhaps he could never make a Christian of her filled his soul with horror, and doubly so when he pictured the effect her singular devotions would have upon his family if they found her at her weird rites and understood that her Deity was the Evil One.

If they did, would they pardon her long delay in returning to her home, and would not the despised suitor make her life very miserable for attempting to run away, as all things pointed to this fact? He tried to console himself that the best thing, under the circumstances, had happened and to make up his mind to leave the spot; but love search of Dorza and rescue her from a distastefu marriage, if from no worse evil. He at last firmly made up his mind to do this and to marry her if he succeeded, trusting to Providence to turn her from the path of her deluded people. No argument of the Englishman could turn him from his course once his mind was fully made up, even though Dick pointed out to him that his very life was in danger if he ventured further into the valley of the

One morning Dick woke up and found his venturesome young friend missing. There was no eed of an explanation. He had gone in search of news of his friend, and finally ventured further into the heart of the valley, but no sign of him could be found. Ashamed of his cowardice, the Englishman finally determined to venture into the very settlement of the Devil Worshipers, if need be; but his heart grew faint as he realized that almost two months had passed since the American had ven tured into danger in pursuit of a will o' the wisp One night, when he had almost given up i

3r. Louis, Aug. 25.—Clear, cool weather prevailed Sunday, and the longing for a renewal of the drama brought out crowds to the openings at Hopkins' Grand Opera House and Havilin's Theatre. Many people were turned away at both places. "Coon Hollow" was the attraction at Havilin's, and was well presented by an able company. "The Lost Paradise" was the drama at Hopkins', and was never seen here to better advantage. Raiph Stuart, Arthur Mackley, Chas. C.
Burnham, C. Ed. Dudley, Jessaline Rodgers and Louise Ripley deserve especial credit. In the vandeville the Five Fredericks, Macart's Dog and Monkey Circus, Pete Baker, Maile Little and Castell Bridges were the features, Miss Little especially charming with her sweet singing..... Keene, magictan, opened to a good sized audience at thrig's Cave, and did some very clever work, his experiments in the telepathy receiving special commendation.... "Giroft Girofta" opened to usual immense business Sunday, at Koerner's Garden...
Minstrels at Suburban Park and Forest Park Highlands received good patronage, the Sisters Esher being the special feature at the latter place.

"The Brocce Sisters left Monday for Louisville, after

The Rinchart Buriesque and Specialty Co. opened at the Euckingham, to a good sized audience. People's Theatre, Rierod's, Robinson's and Olympia Concert Halis opened to fair houses.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.—Just as things in the theatrical business seemed to have struck a low water mark Mr. Blei, of Oregon, comes to the front and gives Chicago something to discuss. A year ago Mr. Blei came down here and started into the business in a small way as the manager of the place that was at that time owned by Adolph Engel. This concert hall was rechristened "The Orpheus," and the most casual observer among its patrons soon saw the place had a manager. Last week Mr. Blei secured control of the Schiller for three years, and will open that house in September as a high class vandeville house, with the attractions booked for the Schiller from the best of New York houses and abroad. The passing of the Schiller into his hands is doubly interesting for the reason that it will not only give the house a chance to run for a few consecutive weeks without a change of management, but it will also give another vaudeville house to the city, making three within as many squares, and all of them with the disposition and the bank roll to make business successful so far as they are able to do by providing first class attractions. The other houses referred to are the Chicago and the Olympic, both of which are under the Kohl & Middleton management.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The seventeenth season at the Grand opened Sunday evening, Aug. 23, with Digby Beil and Laura Joyce Beil, playing "A Midnight Beil." The run of this piece is indefinite. Mr. Beil as Deacon Tidd is making the hit of his life.

Chicago Opera House.—The strong vaudeville was the consequence for the week highdes. Chicago.-Just as things in the theatrical busi

Mr. Bell as Deacon Tidd is making the hit of his life.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—The strong vaudeville bill announced for this week includes John and Emma Ray, Ben Harney, Topack and Steele, Flynn and Walker, Billy Van, the Nonparell Trio, Sparrow, clown juggler; Montgomery and Stone, Lottie West Symonds, Three Racket Bros., Flying Gilberts, Armstrong and Porter, Mons. William, Morrow and Ruthven, and Chris Lane.

HOPKINS'THEATRE.—The stock company will play "Capt. Hearne, U. S. A.," this week, and on the vaudeville programme will be the Swedish Lady quartet, Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper, in "The Darktown Circus;" the Bros. Soncrant, Emile Edwards, Prince Kinzo, Evans and Devees, the Fiquetes and others.

town Circus;" the Bros. Soncrant, Emile Edwards. Prince Kinzo, Evans and Devees, the Figuetes and others.

Horkins' Theatre (West Side).—The season at the West Side house will be opened Sunday afternoon, 30, with "Uncie Josh Spruceby," which will be followed by "The Private Secretary," succeeded by a long list of good attractions carefully selected for the patrons of the house.

MASONIC TEMPLE ROOF GARDEN.—Manager Harry Eatlas secured Ida Fuller for the Roof Garden. She will begin an engagement there Sunday, 23, and will be the chief attraction on a good programme, which includes Giacinta de la Rocca, John Gilbert, Gertrude Reynolds, Rexo and Reno, and the Stewart Sisters.

GREAT NORTHERN ROOF GARDEN.—Three of the people who have done much toward the success of the garden left last week, and the patrons of the place will miss Josephine Sabel, Julie Ring and Jose. For this week the bill includes the Vikings, McBride and Goodrich, Tim Cronin, Flaherty and Connors, Charles E. Wilson, the Ryders, George E. Beban and Smith and Cook.

Schiller Theatre.—"The Bells of Corneville" will be continued this week at the Schiller and will be followed by "Olivette." The business that has been built up by this Summer opera company is maryelous, and the friends of Mr. Henderson regret that the passing of the house into the hands of Mr. Blei will place a limit on the engagement making it necessary to close after two weeks of business in September.

The Tivoli.—The new place is growing very popular with those who love good music and bohemian surroundings for those who wish to remain after the opera is over. "King of the Gauls" will replace "Girofie Girofa" with all the clever people in the acts, including Caritte, Stewart, Clark and the others who are helping to make the house popular.

LINCOLN THEATH.S.—The business that was done by the new play, "The Brand of Cain," was not remarkable, but the place has a fair chance for success in the future, when it has been somewhat rewritten. This week "The Smugglers" will be played by a company that is headed by Paul Scott and includes W. A. Tully, J. A. Tibbetts. W. G. Marble, Mamie Sheridan Woolford, Mary Marble. Next week, Charles A. Gardner, in "Fatheriand."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Oriental America opened with a matine Sunday, and will do good business through the week. The colored people forming this company are very clever singers and the attraction is drawing some good houses. Next week, "A Green Goods Man."

ALHAMBRA THEATRE.—"A Green Goods Man" will be at this house this week, and will be followed by "Darkest Russia," which will open 30 with a matinee.

FERRIS WHEEL PARK.—The programme at the matinee.

Ferris Wherl Park.—The programme at the park this week is a good one, including the appearance of the Four Lassards, Ahrno, Giguere and Boyer, Three Mowatts, Leon, Golden, Chalfant and Golden, Italier and Golden, Ita Madam Walker and Little Swan, snake charmers; John Huber, Blanche Palmer, Nelle Aarons. The theatrical end of the programme will include a variety performance and the Hawaiian dancers, with the usual Midway.

Nores.—McVicker's Theatre will open 30, with "In Mizzouri.".... The Haymarket will open 20, with Ward & Vokes, in "A Run on the Bank," which will be followed by "Charley's Aunt" and a long line of good attractions. ... The Columbia has announced the date of its opening as Sept. 27 and the attraction "In Gay New York."... Col. Hopkins has been down at the other end of the bridge for a few days getting things in order for the opening of his St. Louis enterprise..... A new play, entitled "Eleanor," by John Rosenburg, will be given shortly at one of the down town houses....... M. Palmer and S. E. Rork arrived here today and will make the final arrangements for the opening of the Palmer Theatre in October..... Norres.—Kernan & Rife's new Grand Opera House, which opens this week, has been wonderfuily brightened up and improved from entrace to stage loft. The lobby is a thing of beauty, with its new decorations and a perfect bower of palms. The only change in the house staff from what it was last year is in the treasurership; Mr. Edwards, late of the Holliday Street Theatre, of Baltimore, has been brought over to fill the box office. Two new electric signs have been added, one on the avenue front over the main entrance, and the other on the est' end of the building, where it can be seen for several blocks.....Rarley's National Theatre has, in addition to its new and attractive coat of paint, been further improved by the addition of a large electric sign, covering the front in three lines—"New National Theatre"—which can be seen afar, and adds much to the attractiveness of this popular playhouse. Robert Downing will open the house Sept. 14.....Little Elsie Lower, a very bright and attractive young lady of this city, has been engaged for the coming season by William Barry, in "The Rising Generation,".....Harry Fisk, who for ten years was the assistant to John W. Albaugh, of Albaugh's Grand Opera House, and who occupied the same position last season at Albaugh's Lafayette Square Opera House, is lying critically ill with inflammatory rheumatism at his home in this city. His condition has become alarming to his host of friends, as there seems very little hope of his ever resuming his piace at the theatre.... Robert Downing is rehearsing his new company at Rapley's National Theatre preparatory to the opening of his season, which will be at that house, Sept. 14. Mr. Downing has engaged an excellent supporting company, and will have new and elaborate senery for each of his two new plays, "In Search of Happiness" and "Putnam, a Son of the Revolution."

WASHINGTON.

Seattle.—Things in the theatrical world here-abouts are very dull. Neither the Third Avenue nor the Seattle expect to open before the last of Sentember.

nor the Seattle expect to open before the last of september.

WATER PALACE is drawing fair crowds with an opera company, headed by Rosalie Southern, presenting "Galatea."

ORPHEUM MUSIC HALL.—Big business continues here, it being the only vaudewille theatre open. People: Julia Winchell, Maud Margeson, Stella Claife, Theo. Price, Lydis Ross, George Troxell, Nellie Perry, Jim Townsend, Mose Goldsmith, La Monde Sisters, Biddy Doyle and Carrie Winchell, Nortes.—The Forepaugh-Sells Show did very good business, Aug. 17, for a show playing at $1.30 and $1.... Manager Russell, of the Third Avenue, is busy renovating his cosy theatre, and also booking a big line of first class attractions.

Along the Line Begin to Show Activity.

[Special Dispatches to The New York Clipper.]

Boston, Aug. 25.—At the Boston Museum last night Roland Reed gave the first presentation on any stage of his new three act comedy, "The Wrong Mr. Wright," written for him by George II. Broadhurst. In the character of Seymour Sites Mr. Reed was at his best, and Isadore Rush as Henrietta Oilver, a female detective, met the full requirements of the role. The rest of the company did well, and the verdict was that the play is a success......I. N. Morris' melodrama, "The Last Stroke," was presented at the Boston Theatre last evening and met with good success. It is staged with all the abundant resources at the command of Stage Manager McCarthy, and deserves the liberal applause accorded it... At Keith's New Theatre the "Living Pictures" and a good vaudeville bill drew good houses day and night on Monday... The Bowdood Square Theatre will open its regular season 25, with the first American production of "A House of Mystery."..... "Slaves of Gold" was produced at the Columbia Theatre last night, to good business, by the Arniold-Reeves Co., and held a fairly interested audience.

Full abellulla, Aug. 25.—The Castle Square Co., at the Grand, opened the week with "ollyette," to a crowded house. The opera was well sung, and the stage settings were very effective... The National to the enormous crowd attracted yesterday the Bijou was compelled to shut down the sale of tickels three times.... "Twelve Temptations" proved a fine drawing card at the Auditorium, and the S. R. O. sign was early displayed.... "The White day, 23.

Cutexgo. Aug. 25.—The regular season at the Grand opened brightly Sunday night, with Digby. Bell and Laura Joyce Bell in an excellent performance of "A Midnight Bell." There was a big house for the opening, and another this evening. The roof gardens were both in bad form last night, but are running more smoothly now. At the Masonic lida Fuller was placed in the embarassing position of being left in the lurch by losing some of her electrical props. She made a little curtain speech of apology to the audience, and they were lenient.

At the Great Northern Manager Sutherland had the hard luck to strike several acts that dispersed the audience, and tonight Josephine Sabel came back to help out the show for the week.

"King of the Gauls" drew well at the Tivoli, where it is being well presented this week.

"King of the Gauls" drew well at the Tivoli, where it is being well presented this week.

KANASA CITY, Aug. 25.—Cool weather and big business started the season here this week. Clay Clement, in "The New Dominion," opened the Grand Sunday night, to a big house.... The Ninth Street Theastre opened with a Sunday mathiee, with John Griffith, in "Faust.".... The season at the Gillis was inaugurated Saturday night, when Richard & Pringle's Georgia Minstrels gave a great show and turned away hundreds.... At Fairmount Park Auditorium Lockhart's Eaphanis started in on their second week last night, and the vandeville was made up of Arthur Deagan, Madge Drogomond, Doherty and Ryner, Stanley and Scanhon, Lord and Rowe, Devone and Schwitz.... The Grand has been entirely refrescoed and has a new drop curtain.

Lotisville, Aug. 25.—The season of the Avenue Theatre, under the management of Brady & Stalr, opened Sunday night most auspiclously, with "A farrel of Money," before a good sized audience.

The Rinchart Buriesque and Specialty Co. opened at the Buckingham, to a good sized audience. People's Theatre, Rierod's, Robinson's and Olympia Concert Halls opened to fair houses.

The Aleazar Theatre, San Francisco, Cal., will be tened early in September with a stock company, under the management of Frank Doane, Frederick Belavco and J. B. Jordan; Adrie Belgarde, leading: Amy Lee, soubrette, Frank Doane, comedian, and Joseph Polk, character.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.—Just as things in the theatrical business seemed to have struck a low water mark Mr. Biel, of Oregon, comes to the front and gives Chicago something to discuss. A year ago Mr. Biel came down here and started into the business in a small way as the manager of the place that was at that time owned by Adolph Engel. This concert hall was rechristened "The Orpheus," and the most casual observer among its patrons soon saw the place had a manager. Last week Mr. Biel secured control of the Schiller for three years, and will open that house in September as a high class vaudeville house, with the attractions booked for the Schiller from the best of New York houses and abroad. The passing of the Schiller into his bands is doubly interesting for the reason that it will not only give the house a chance to run for a few consecutive weeks without a change of management, but it will also give another vaudeville house to the city, making three within as many squares, and all of them with the disposition and the bank roll to make business successful so far as they are able to do by providing first class attractions. The other houses referred to are the Chicago and the Olympic, both of which are under the Kohl & Middleton management.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The seventeenth season at the Grand opened Sunday evening, Aug. 23, with Digby Bell and Laura Joyce Bell, playing "A Midnight Bell." The run of this piece is indefinite. Mr. Bell as Deacon Tidd is making the hit of his Chicago opens. Chicago.-Just as things in the theatrical busi-

Mr. Bell as Deacon Tidd is making the int of his life.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—The strong vaudeville bill announced for this week includes John and Emms Ray, Ben Harney, Topack and Steele, Flynn and Walker, Billy Van, the Nonpareli Trio, Sparrow, clown juggler; Montgomery and Stone, Lottle West Symonds, Three Racket Bros., Flying Gilberts, Armstrong and Porter, Mons. William, Morrow and Ruthren, and Chris Lane.

Hopkins' Theatre.—The stock company will play "Capl. Hearne, U. S. A.," this week, and on the vaudeville programme will be the Swedish Lady Quarter, Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper, in "The Darktown Circus." the Bros. Soncrant, Emile Edwards, Prince Kinzo, Evans and Devees, the Figuetes and others.

lown Circus;" the Bros. Soncranf, Emile Edwards, Prince Kinzo, Evans and Devees, the Figuetes and others.

Howkins' Theatre (West Side).—The season at the West Side house will be opened Sunday afternoon, 30, with "Uncle Josh Spruceby," which will be followed by "The Private Secretary," succeeded by a long list of good attractions carefully selected for the patrons of the house.

Masonic Temple Roof Garden.—Manager Harry Earl has secured Ida Fuller for the Roof Garden. She will begin an engagement there Sunday, 23, and will be the chief attraction on a good programme, which includes Glacinta de la Rocca, John Gilbert, Gertrude Reynolds, Rexo and Reno, and the Stewart Sisters.

Great Northern Roof Garden.—Three of the people who have done much foward the success of the garden left last week, and the patrons of the place will miss Josephine Sabel, Julie Ring and Jose. For this week the bill includes the Vikings, McBride and Goodrich, Tim Cronin, Flabrity and Connors, Charles E. Wilson, the Ryders, George E. Beban and Smith and Cook.

SCHILLER THEATRE.—'The Bells of Corneville' will be continued this week at the Schiller and will befollowed by "Olivette." The business that has been built up by this Summer opera company is marvelous, and the friends of Mr. Henderson regret that the passing of the house into the hands of Mr. Blet will place a limit on the engagement making it necessary to close after two weeks of business in September.

The Tivoli.—The new place is growing very popular with those who love good music and behemian surroundings for those who wish to remain after the opera is over. "King of the Gauls' will replace "Girofie Girofia" with all the clever people in the acts, including Caritte, Stewart, Clark and the others who are helping to make the house popular.

Liscoln Theatre.—The Business that was done by the new play, "The Brand of Cain." was not re-

In the acts, including Carlille, Siewart, Clark and the others who are helping to make the house popular.

Lincoln Theatre.—The business that was done by the new play, "The Brand of Cain," was not remarkable, but the piece has a fair chance for success in the future, when it has been somewhat rewritten. This week "The Smugglers" will be played by a company that is headed by Paul Scott and includes W. A. Tully, J. A. Tibbetts. W. G. Marble, Marties Mariles Sheridan Woolford, Mary Marble. Next week, Charles A. Gardiner, in "Fatherland."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Oriental America opened with a matinee Sunday, and will do good business through the week. The colored people forming this company are very clever singers and the attraction is drawing some good houses. Next week, "A Green Goods Man."

ALHAMBRA THEATRE.—"A Green Goods Man," will be at this house this week, and will be followed by "Darkest Russia," which will open 30 with a matinee.

FERRIS WHERL PARK.—The programme at the ALHAMBRA THEATRE.—"A Green Goods Man' will be at this house this week, and will be followed by "Darkest Russia," which will open 30 with a matinee.

Ferris Wherl Park.—The programme at the park this week is a good one, including the appearance of the Four Lassards, Ahrno, Giguere and Boyer, Three Mowatts, Leon, Golden, Chaifant and Golden, Healey and Marba, and others. The Ferris Wheel Park is becoming a very attractive resort, and is drawing good crowds all the time.

The Orphel's.—About the same programme will be continued at the Orpheus, with the same list of people. Mr. Emmich will have direct control of the house in future, as he has in the past. The management of the Schiller and the Royal will take so much of Mr. Biel's attention that the scene of his first appearance in Chicago is not likely to get much of his attention.

Sam T. Jack's Offra House.—Mr. Jack's company this week will present the extravaganza, "The Buil Fighter," and "Monte Carlo." Specialties will be furnished by members of the company.

Kohl & Middleron's Clark Street Museum.—For this week the bill includes Elva, the Okiahoma magnetic girl, Metklejohn, magician; Copoldia gypsy band; Prof. King, and a variety programme, headed by Bourdin and Airdelle.

Gloob Museum.—The programme for this week at the Globe will include the usual list of attractions in the museum and the appearance of Rosa at the head of a company of Oriental dancers. There will, next week, be a little more attention paid to vaudeville in connection with the Globe. White's London Dime Museum—In the curio halls will bbe Sanderson's "Humpiy Dumpty" Co., Madam Walker and Little Swan, snake charmers; John Huber, Blanche Palmer, Nelle Aarons. The theatrical end of the programme will include a variety performance and the Hawatian dancers. There will be Followed by "Charley's Aunt" and a long line of good attractions.... The Columbia has announced the date of its opening as Sept. 2: and the attraction "In Gay New York."......Col. Hopkins has been down at the other end of the prog

Baltimore.—The twenty-sixth season of Ford's Opera House was inaugurated Aug. 2s, with Al. G. Field's Minstrels and "Utopia" a: the attraction. The entertainment is an attractive one, opening with a lively first part, entitled "The Court of Monus," which is followed by a pleasing list of specialties, the whole concluding with "Utopia," the Twentieth Century Circus. New drops, scenery, etc., have been added during the Summer, and new chairs and carpets adorn the lower part of the Monthlory Strengt Theatre.—Daniel A. Kelly, so long and favorably known to Baltimoreans, both as an actor and as manager of the old Front Street Theats of a Great City." "Dixle Land" did a moderate business last week, the play being but a light thread upon which to display the specialties of McIntyre and Heath. "Boy Wanted" is billed for 3k.

KERMAN'S MONUNENTAL THEATRE.—The May Howard Burliesque Co. opened to an audience of good proportions 24. Miaco's City Club did fairly well 17-22. The Cyrene Nather Co. is din 3t.

Opera Co., writing from this city in regard to a statement made in last week's CLIPPER by our Duluth, Minn., correspondent, says: "The Gonzalez plera Co., writing from this city in regard to a statement made in last week's CLIPTER by our Duluth, Minn., correspondent, says: "The Gonzalez Opera Co. closed on Aug. 9, in Duluth, and the members received every penny due them for their last week's salary. I sold part of the costumes to a man named Watson, who was to take the company on the road under the name of the ideal Opera Co., opening Aug. 16, at Superior, Wis., but was disappointed in a prima donna who was to join him from Chicago. To accommodate him Miss Gonzalez went to West Superior on Monday evening and played Yum Yum, in 'The Mikado,' with the full knowledge of the entire company that we were to come East on Aug. 11, which we did, but not hurriedly, as our tickets were bought the day before. The Gonzalez Opera Co. closed a season of ten weeks at the Favilion in Duluth on Aug. 9, and was in no way connected with any company in West Superior; neither did Miss Gonzalez or myself leave Duluth hurriedly, or owe anyone one penny for their last week's salary."

Variety and Minstrelsy

Notes from the Al. G. Field Minstells and "Utopla."—The first week of the present season will be long remembered by the seventy performers. It was possibly the hottest opening week known to any member of the company, but in spite of that fact the business has been phenomenal, proving conclusively that Al. G. Field holds a place in the hearts of the amusement loving public that even old general humidity, at 96 degrees, and the scorching sun registering the heat at 105 in the shade, cannot dislodge. A number of pleasant burners of the mineral proving the week. While at Longton, Ky., the company was handsomely enterthered in the afternoon by the Lexington Lodge, Br. O. E., and at the performance in the evening Mr. Field was presented with a silk umbrella, the property in a masterly manner. It was a complete structure of the silk of the largest and the complete the structure of the silk of the largest and the complete the silk of the largest and the largest property of the silk of the largest and the largest endered an impromptu social to the company in our train. We all enjoyed ourselves buggly, and as the train steamed away at 12.30 for Norfolk the Elks on the platform sang "Auld Lang Syne," and gave three rousing cheers for the company. All the boys have stood the strain of rehearsals and the intense heat bravely, with the result that the show its running as smooth as a watch, Bogart and O'Brien are repeating their success of last season ten fold; Dan Quinian, as interlocutor, is pronounced by the public as a success. Jno. W. Vogel is at the helm, being engaged by Mr. Field as manager, and under his skillful guidance a prosperious season seems in store for this popular company. mapidly opening for the season of 1856-91. Last week full see three more with doors thrown open to the public.

Grand Opera House.—"Olivette" is the Castle Square Co.'s bill this week. An excellent cast has been arranged and the opera will, no doubt, receive the same careful presentation that its predecessors did. Last week "Il Trovatore" met with an increase over the very good business of the past. At the celebration of the company's one hundredth performance, Aug. 20, the house was crowded to the doors and many were turned away. Very pretty silver sleeve links and glove buttoners were presented as souvenirs to the ladies attending. Rosa Linde, who was announced to sing at the Wednesday matinee, did not appear. Next week a production of "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief" will be made.

National.—The current bill at the National is Gotthoid's Gigantic Gathering of Carefully Chosen Celebrities. This organization gives a street parade 24. Last week "Human Hearts" had a very successful week. The opening house, 15, was only fair, but during the week the attendance largely increased, and made the engagement entirely satisfactory from a business standpoint. Next week, the Cleveland and Haverly Minstrels.

FOREPAUGH's.—For the present week the Forepaugh Stock produces "The Danites." Last week the stock company, in "The Ensign," started the season with a boom. With daily matinees the house was full at every performance, and indications point to another successful season. Next week, "La Belle Russe."

THE BLOU.—The new scenes-on the cinematographe at the Bijou this week are: "Malays Diving for Pennies," "Discharging an Ocean Liner's Cargo," "Russian National Dancers" and "Scene on the Champs Elysees." A very fine vaudeville bill is made up of John C. Rice and Sallie Cohen. George Fuller Golden, Swift and Chase, McDonough Trio, the De Forrests, Conway and Leiand, Le Petit Freddle, the Vaidares, Misses Schaeffer and Mona, Kherns and Cole, Tom Mack, Louis M. Providence.-The Westminster Theatre opened the season Aug. 17. The house has undergone some very elaborate changes, and has a decidedly new appearance. The scenery is all practically new, having all been repainted by Chas. B. Monroe, of this city. The attraction offered was the Marie Sanger Burlesque Co. The company did a good week's business, and, all considered, was well satisfied. From here the show will go out under the management of Citford Moffat, who was at one time treasurer of the Westminster. The attraction this week is Rose Sydell's London Belles. Next week, Ed F. Rush's "Excelsior."

LOTHROP'S OPERA HOUSE.—Katherine Rober, supported by her own company, in "Carmen," week of 17, did a good business. This week, Altee C. Keane, supported by a special company, in "Irish Devotion." This house has also been in the hands of the decorators and painters.

KETH'S OPERA HOUSE will open its season Sept. 7, and will offer a strong variety show made up from Mr. Keith's other theatres.

BLOU THEATHE.—New people for week of Aug. 24: Maude Olinger and Beaumont Claxton. A drama, entitled "A Party by the Name of Johnson," goes on this week. Business fair.

Cincinnati.-Once more the managers of the outdoor resorts have reason to complain of their ill luck, for the past week the temperature in the evenings has threatened to toboggan towards zero, and the attendance at the parks has been meagre. The week ended in rain, and the one constitution. ings has threatened to toboggan towards zero, and the attendance at the parks has been meagre. The week ended in rain, and the one question is, "When will it ceases". The Zoo and Chester Park both claim to be well pleased, everything considered, with the attendance to their historical spectacles. Both have the same idea, the early history of Checinnati. The Zoo calls theirs "Historical Circinnati," While Chester Park's production is called "Cincinnati one Hundred Years Ago." The Zoo uses real Indians and real trees for the background of the picture, while Chester has elegantly painted scenery. The artist, in producing Fort Washington, used as a copy what is claimed to be the only painting of the fort in existence; made up Indians are used, a ballet, three specialities and a pyrotechnical display are interspersed. Both resorts have splendid sites for the proper display of their productions. It is to be hoped the Cincinnati Baseball Club keeps up in the race, as three "machine games" are all doing a splendid business here, at the Pike, the Fountain and the Star. Cincinnati is baseball mad, and if the Reds keep up the present good work the managers of these games will be "in."

Zoo.—"Historical Cincinnati" continues for another week, as does Sie Hassan Ben All's Royal Moorish Acrobats. The Republican campaign was opened by a club outing at this resort, Senator John Sherman being principal speaker. The attractions are: Vic Cody, rough rider and rife shot; Lillian Cody, lady rifle shot; W. S. Sowles, tenor baritone; Eunice G. Bertling, soprano, and the John C. Weber Military Band.

CHRSTER PARK.—"Cincinnati One Hundred Years Ago" will be kept in the open arena another week. Ballet Master Raymond is rehearsing the ballet for novel dances. Delmore and Lee, Gilbert, equilibrist; the Renfos, aerialists, furnish the specialies. In "The German Village" are the De Carlos, Wood and Ashton, Stewart and King, Woods and Nicholas, White and Dennis, In all probability the crack bievele racers of the country will come to train on

NEW YORK CITY.

Last Week's Events .- The cool and pleas ant weather of the past week greatly benefitted local theatrical business. Several theatres that have been closed for a Summer recess reopened during the week and attracted large audiences. These were but the harbingers of the season, however, for many more openings will follow during the week to come.....The continued attrac-tions for the week ending Aug. 22 were: "In Gay New York" at the Casino, German opera at Ten-RACE GARDEN and Bentley's Circus under canvas on the East side Variety entertainment was furnished at TONY PASTOR'S, KOSTER & BIAL'S, the SQUARE, PROCTOR'S, the CENTRAL OPERA HOUSE, PROCTOR'S PLEASURE PALACE and the following roof gardens, OLYMPIA, the CASINO, the GRAND CENTRAL PALACE, the AMERICAN, the MAIDSON SQUARE and the COLONIAL......The GARRICK THEATRE reopened Aug. 17, with a revival of "Thoroughbred."....At the Academy of Music "Under the Polar Star," a melodrama, by Clay M. Greene and David Belasco, was presented Aug. 20, for the first time before a metropolitan audience, and scored a success. The play was first acted June 29, 1886, at the California Theatre, San Francisco, but it failed to find favor at that time and was soon withdrawn. Since then it has been rewritten by its authors, and in its present shape the play is likely to become one of the leading successes of the season, as it ranks among the first in its class, and possesses elements which make a play popular. The stage mountings are elaborate and handsome, and the scenic and mechanical effects are striking. The representation in the fourth act of an ice doe in the polar regions excites admiration, and the breaking up of the bergs forms a climax which will rank well among ie most thrilling scenes ever presented on the stage. t held the audience spellbound, and when the cur tain fell the big house, packed from pit to dome, resounded with the plaudits of an enthusiastic audience. Four or five times the curtain had to be present, and the characters in the scene were compelled to come before the curtain. Clay M. Greene, whose name only appeared on the programme as athor, in response to repeated calls, made a very modest speech, in which he said that to David Be lasco, who was his collaborator, although not so announced, belonged the greater portion of credit for the work. The authors have handled their ma-terial well, and, aithough the characters drawn are terial well, and, attnoign the characters drawn are of the conventional melodramatic type, they are interesting. The slory of the play in brief is as fol-lows: Silas Rodman, a wealthy merchant, projects an arctic expedition. His two nephews, both claim ants for the hand of his ward, are to be members of it. One of them, William Brandon, U. S. N., finds him elf in disfavor, and when his uncle succumbs to a stroke of apoplexy arranges it so that poisonous medicine is administered to him and he dies. The guift is fixed upon the other nephew, Harry Carle ion, but not until the expedition has sailed, in the crew of which Helen Blaine, the ward, is enlisted as a cabin boy in order to be near to Brandon. whom she favors. In the arctic regions many adventures beset the daring band of explorers. A Government tug overhauls the ship and demands the arrest of Carleton. But the captain, believing in his innocence, declares there is no such person on board. Soon after the departure of the ing the ship is crushed in by an iceturg. The third act takes place in Winter quarters, where Brandon, anxious to desert, has the hero and Alexy, an Esquimaux guide, bound to the mast and the ship fired. From this trying predicament Helen Biaine, whose sex has meantime been discovered, rescues them. The survivors are next seen adrift on an immense doe of ice. Helen is saved from starvation by the faithful Alexy, who returns from a hunt for food with a small bird, which, though starving himself, he brings to her. Alexy dies, and the ice breaks up in a most realistic manner. When there seems to be no hope for the remaining members of the expedition they are res cued by a relief expedition. In the final act the vil-lainy of Brandon is exposed. Helen and Carleton are united, and all ends well. The comedy of the play is furnished by Achille Rabon, the scientist of the expedition, and Washington Post, a press repre entative. Charles Kent, as Silas Rodman, although he only appeared in the first act, appeared to advantage. Francis Cariyle, as Harry Carleton. was as manly and heroic as a hero should be, and Cuyler Hastings, as William Brandon, was thorough ly villainous, and was accorded many well carned hisses for his work. Leo Dietrichstein, as Achille Rabon, and Theodore Babcock, as Washington Post, were excellent and made the most of their opportunities. As Alexy W. H. Thompson once more demonstrated his sterling ability. While the role ta a small one, from a speaking sense, in the hands of Mr. Thompson U. Steller, and the control of th Mr. Thompson it stands out prominently, and no character in the play overshadows it. On his first performance his good work carned great applause Grace Henderson did well as Helen Blaine, and de-serves praise for her work while disguised as a light mulatto cabin boy, as well as in her proper habiliments, Bijou Fernandez made a light hearted Fiora Heath, the sweetheart of Washington Post. in the role of John Hamilton George Wesse other characters were well sustained. PROCTOR'S PLEASURE PALACE -This handsome amusement resort was well filled during Monday afternoon and evening, Aug. 24, when an excellent bill was presented for the current week. Rosic Rendel, a pretty transformation dancer, headed the list of people, and won new laurels for her the list of people, and won new laurels for her work. The Versatile Trio, eccentric comedians, found themselves among friends who were anxious to show their approval. Jeanette Lewis, comediane, won many friends by her singing and banjo playing, and Leonard and Bernsrd, in a talking sketch, gave full satisfaction. The Engsirom Sistens, singers and dancers, were soon well in the favor of their audience, and Ward and Brown, in a German comedy sketch, were amusing. Fannie Lesile, a contortionist well known to metropolitan patrons of vaudeville, was still popular. Geo. II. Timmons, Irish singer and harpist, made many new friends. Amaile Reme, tyrolean singer, made an excellent impression. Morton and Revelle, sketch comedians, were very amusing. Their quick, snappy work was fully appreciated by their audience, and their efforts were rewarded with liberal applauss. Gordon and Lick, in a musical comedy act: Kenney and Russell, knockabouts: Miles and Raymond, in a sketch: Nick Adams, monologuist, and Mile. Rose Gautler, dancer, all came in for a share of approval.

Side resort on Saturday night, Aug. 22, the house being packed to the standing room limit. On Monday, 21, another big house was in line, and the many entertaining numbers on the bill seemed to meet with abundant approval. Genaro and Bailey began the festivities with a novel act, full of good points and much mirrh; Senator Frank Bell followed with his lucid explanations of matters and things, and Fields and Hanson scored their accustomed hit with their excellent musical specialty. Dryden and Mitchell captured the house with their amusing act, and gave way to Annie Hart, who made one of the hits of the night. She opens the season with a good line of songs, well rendered, but has not forgotten to pass the chowder as the finish of her act, a tribute to the stability of the amusement stomachs of vandewille devotees. Blocksom, and Page made good headway. Fred Valmore presented a decidedly unique specialty with flattering success, and Stinson and Merton, as is their wont, brought down the house with their highly amusing sketch. To finish the oilo, Joe Fiynu sang parodies until he was hoarse, and still the house demanded more, his hit being strong and well deserved. Dryden & Mitchell's afterpiece, "Stattery's Mishaps." brought the show to a happy finish, all comers departing with a good impression of the merits of the entertainers. John F. Fields, sole owner, retains Jass. D. Flynn as business manager, with Eddie Stamons master of transportation. The company deserves great prosperity, and, as it is well booked, will no doubt make a good showing on its season's journeyings. The executive staff of the house incundes Louis Roble, acting manager; Jas. H. Bucken, treasurer; Julius Vogler, musical conductor; Edward Weeks, chief doorkeeper; Frank Calder, advertising agent, and Henry Heimerle, master machinist. Next week comes Thos. E. Miaco's "City Club," headed by Fannie Everett.

OLYMPIA ROOF GARDEN.—The usual big crowd was in attendance Aug. 24, when one of the best was in attendance Aug. 24, when one of the best bills of the season was presented. Leola Mitchell, "The Living boll," made her first appearance at this resort and captured her audience with her singing and sprightly manners. She is little more than a midget, but possesses a voice that for sweetness and strength is rarely excelled by big sister singers on the vaudeville stage. Van Auken, Mc Phee and Hill, horizontal bar performers, were also new comers and won great applause for their excellent work. Almont and Dumont, instrumentalists, proved themselves to be performers of no little ability and met with the full approval of their audience. Bennetto and Rito, a pair of elver contortionists, received good applause for their work and Neison, Glinseretti and bemonio, grotesques, found great favor. Hampton's Dog Circus, new to this house, was well liked, two features, a conchee couchee dancing dog and a puir of boxing cats, receiving loud applause. The Three La Martine Brothers became favorities for their acrobatic feats. Papinta began her second week a popular holdover. The beautiful effects in her mirror dances were fully recognized, and the big roof resounded with plaudits. Rachel Walker, Creole nightingale, continues to be a prime favorite here and has been engaged indefinitely. Her excellent singing always captures her audience. The Beaumont Sisters, in songs and dances, were popular holdovers and won new admirers. Senorita liaranco, danseuse, continued to be in high favor, and May Howard, burlesquer, sang her usual budget of songs. Oscar Hammerstein's March, "E-pagnoi," was rendered during the intermission by Theodore John's orchestra, and came in for a large share of applause.

Tony Pastor's Tirkater.—Imogene Comer's sweet singing is the feature of the current bill, with views by the kilkenoptikon an interesting factor in the amusement. Tom Clark and Lillian bills of the season was presented. Leola Mitchell, Tom Clark and Lillian Shiley, under the resurrected team name of Clark and St. Clair, made an immediate hit, and they well deserved the liberal applause bestowed upon them for their clever work. Sam and Kitte Morton, whose dancing has brought them into strong favor all along the line, sorred heavily in the line of applause. The Nelson Tito were welcomed to their former seenes of victory. 14zels Ramsden, in quick changes and good dancing, was successful, and Go Id and Burt found abundant favor. Others who contributed to the entertainment this week art. Thomas and Quinn, could bishmen; John and Lulin Keegan, sketchists; Gussie Newcombe, songs; Billy Payne, monologue; Lulu Thelss, a clever weach impersonator; val Vi to, juggler, and Bes sie Searle, who aiways leaves an agreeable impression through her singing. The house was filled in every part on Monday, Aug. 24, and the crowd seemed to enjoy the performance immensely. Man ager Pastor, who is making his annual Fall tour of the principal cities, sends reports of big business, and Business Manager Harry Sanderson has news of prosperity to return from this end of the line.

ituber's Palack Myselv.—This house was crowded afternoon and night of Aug. 24, when another entertaining bill was presented, both on the stage and in curio hail. A bevy of divorced ladtes tell their fales of woe, as the feature of the curio floor, others in that department being Paul Kidder. Prof. Franks, Frank Le Bar, Del Kano, and Brovan's Punch and Judy Layout. The stage entertainment engages the highly acceptable services of the Two Kidds, McAvoy and Rogers, the Melrose Sistets, Harry S. Marton, Fri and Mack. Sol Koppe, Olga Regina and Chas. A. Roberts.

Hollis E. Cooley, formerly treasurer of the Ninth Street Theatre, Kanasa City, Mo., and who was later a road manager for Davis & Keogh, has been engaged by R. M. Guilck & Co. as resident manager of the Star Theatre, which opens the season Aug. 29 with "Northern Lights."

Spectacular Farce Comedy Co. opened the season of this house on Monday afternoon, Aug. 24. to a well filled house, and the evening performance was attended by an audience which completely filled the house from top to bottom. They were to give royal welcome to old friends, and the rousing reception extended, as every well known favorite made her or his appearance, warmed up the company and audience slike, and a rolleking performance was the result. Mr. Miaco, with characteristic lavishness and utter disregard for expense, has equipped this year's production in spiendid style, everything being new throughout. Manager J. Austin Fynes presents for the current amusement of the throngs which frequent this popular house a bill of unusual excellence. Sidney Drew and his talented wife, Gladys Rankin, are presenting with great success, for the first time, a very next dramatic sketch, entitled "A Model Young Man," as a feature of the bill. John J. Burke and Grace Forrest made the hit of the show on Monday, Aug. 24, in their highly amusing absurdity. "Tricks of the Trade." Mr. Burke is always genuinely funny, and in Miss Forrest has an able assistant. Hines and Remington returned to the scenes of past triumphs and repeated their previous successes, and the Fenz Brothers, going into their second week, were much appreciated. Others who furnished amusement for an audience which tested the standing room capacity of the house more than once during the afternoon and night were the Brothers Diantas, the Mendoza Sisters, the Baggesens, Collins and Colinias, Ray Burton, Edwards, ventriloquist; Chas. KOSTER & BIAL'S.—The excellent bill presented bined forces to attract a large audience to this resort on Monday night. The Acme Four were new comers and presented a sketch entitled "Tubb's Visit." They were soon on friendly terms with the audience and were favored with much applause. Edgar Ely, with his "Future Dude" act, was amusing, and Salmo, a contortionist, did well. Wm. A. Mason and Shorty Healy (offied as "One and a litait") were also laugh makers. O'Brien and Havel entered their second week pronounced favorites. Their entire act met with favor, while the flutsh of Mr. O'Brien won storms of applause and he was called before the curtain several times. M. Cermont's trained animals continued to be popular, and Chara Wielaud won new friends by ner ceever singing. Zaeo began her second week well in the favor of her audience, and the Frying Jordans, holdover favorites, brought down the house with their clever aerial work.

Proctor's Theatric.—Good attendance is the rule at this cost playloonse, and the pleasing per-rule at this cosy playhouse, and the pleasing per-formances furnished by Manager Proctor are stamped with approval. The bill opening Aug. 24 stamped with approval. The bill opening Aug. 24 included John and Harry Dillon, well known as parody singers, and their work was accorded appliause. Grinnell and Fostelle, in a travesty on "Trilley," were amusing, and Louise Montrose, in character changes and dances, found favor. Price and S'eele, acrobatic comedians, won many laughs, and May Wentworth, comedians, made new admirers by her singing. Others who found favor were: Bates and Bates, in a musical act; charles Robinson, Irish comedians, Marie Culp, soubrette items and Elliott, comedy sketch duo; Grace Sherwood, in character changes; Cooper and Stewart, black face comedians, Crosby and Lee, Irish comedians; Weston, club swinger; Melrose and Elmar, in character changes; Maud Berington, serio comic; Herbert and Kola, contortionists, and Oliver C. Patten, tramp comedian.

Madison SQUARE ROOF GARDEN.—Caron and Herbert and Leoua Lewis are making hits this week, Aug. 24 29, in a bill which also includes Fatall and Abacht. FRANK B. CARR'S THIRD AVENUE THEATRE .-"Excelsior," the second of Ed. F. Rush's compan les to take the road this season, opened this house under the new management, Saturday evening under the new management, Saturday evening, Aug. 22, to a large and appreciative audience, who pronounced the production excellent in many respects. Mr. Rush has secured a large number of recognized vaudeville performers, and their united efforts tend to effect a most satisfactory result in the amusement line. The title is about all there is of "Excelsior" as "Excelsior," but this title permits a display of Alpine scenery and effects which have been taken advantage of to introduce picturesque mountain maids, sturdy Alpine climbers, milk lassies, brigands, tourists, etc. The scenery itself is very elaborate, and with careful lighting some ciever views are produced. The scenery fiself is very elaborate, and with careful lighting some ciever views are produced. The scenery fiself is very handsome. The company carried the piot of the burlesque evenly throughout, its members being thoroughly at home. Carrie Rudolph, who might have been a trifle more forceful as the dashing Excelsior, essayed the leading boy, while Helen Russell, as William Tell, sharpshoter, acted and sang satisfactorily. George H. Turner, as the conductor of Cook's Tourists; Fred C. Fish, as the chief of the brigands, with Little Quigg, as the pocket edition of a brigand, Frank Cayton, a withered beauty, in love with Excelsior, and W. Helstrom, as the valet, furnished considerable amusement. The tourists, climbers and other character turns, presented by the chorus, were encored. During a concert arranged for the entertainment of Excelsior the oilo was presented. It included the Three Helstroms, formerly The Helstrons, in their dancing specialty, introducing a novel statue clog, for which they were applauded. Clayton and Grant, in a laughable musical sketch, followed, and Frank Clayton's comedy work, as well as Mr. Grant's playing on various instruments, were well liked. Turner and Russell, in a comedy sketch, in which they introduced some lively repartee and many local hits, were recalled repeatedly. The scoon start to finish by their funny falls a Aug. 22, to a large and appreciative audience, who pronounced the production excellent in many re-spects. Mr. Rush has secured a large number of Newburg.—The Academy of Music will open the season of 1896-97 Aug. 26, with the Bros. Byrne, in their new "Eight Bells." Manager Taylor intends to present to his patrons during the season the best attractions ever seen in this city, and Newburg will have a greater variety of shows than ever before. The Academy has undergone a complete renovation the past Summer and many improvements made, rome of which will add materially in making the staging of large productions more complete.... The management of tilenwood Park, a popular Summer resert, located on the outskirts of the city, is now offering vaudeville attractions, in order to boom business, giving afternoon and evening perform ances in the open air. This week: Cal Stewart, Neary and Morris, Stewart and Morton, and Jennie Morton.

Jersey City.—The Bon Ton opened the regular season Aug. 22, with a matinee performance. The house was packed to the doors, and at night standing room was at a premium and hundreds were turned away. The people who opened 22, for the week ensuing, were: James Hoey, Gallagher and West, the American Macks, Daly and Devere, Byron and Boyd, Meyer Cohen, Travelle, Lillian Perry, the Wood Sisters and Rutchie. The house during the Summer has been thoroughly overhauled and many improvements have been made. Scenic Artist Faul Mellen presented some very artistic sets, which were much admired. Joseph Bell and John McGuire are lessees and managers; Michael Keegan, a valued attache, has been appointed stage manager; Emory Lenhart property master, Pop Tuers, engineer, and Geo. Cragg leader, with an orchestra of six. The policy of the house has been somewhat changed—two performances a day in place of the continuous.

cook and Al. Robington. Manager C. V. Blatt will also appear during the week, in some of his lifting feats.

DRAKE'S OPERA HOUSE.—This house will be dark until Oct. 5, when Col. Wm. Morton will open the season. An attempt is being made, it is said, by Stockholders Egenoif, Faulks, Sayre and Drake to pay the $52,000 mortgage and run the theatre themselves, and thus prevent the Sherid's sale Sept. 12. The remodeling of the theatre continues to go on.

ANNIE CHANCE Joined the "Baggage Check" Co. here 22, and will take the place of Mabel Moore as May Biossom.

New ark.—Although the weather is still sultry the local theatres are all about to open, and at Waldmann's, which opened Saturday night, Aug. 22, the rush was so great that the box office was closed before the performance began, and not even standing room was to be had. Isham's "Octoroons" was the opening bill, and the show, which is bigger and better than ever, will hold over this week. The costumes are all new and handsome, and the scenery is quite elaborate. There are a number of new act so in the programme, and the solor and the solor of the waste of the solor of the ALABAMA.

Birmington.—At Lakeview the New York Stock Co., presenting "A Noble Outcast," played the week of Aug. 16, to light business. The company will probably close the engagement this week.

A "cake walk" for a prize, by colored contestants, had been advertised extensively for the past two weeks to take place at East Lake last wednesday night. About five thousand people went out to see it, but for some cause the contestants failed to appear. The audience, after which in the past the contestants failed to appear. The audience, after who been fooled. Some one from upstairs threw a chair at the cake, which was on the stage, and it was a signal for a general onalaught, which the management was unable to quell. Everything movable was piled up in front of the stage, and the crowd was only quieted when some one cut the electric light wire, leaving everything in darkness. Fortunately no one received any personal injury.

COLORADO.

Denver.—At Manhattan Beach, week of Aug. 16, the production of "Niobe," by the stock company, is one of the finest productions ever given in this city. The phantascope has proven to be one of the greatest novelties. Business is good.

ELITCH GARDENS.—Week of 16: The vitascope craze has struck Denver. This has been a big week at the gardens. "Ferncilif" was given by the stock company. The indians are drawing large crowds. Mention.—Jennie Kennark, who has been at Ellich's all Summer, left 17 for New York, to join one of Frohman's companies.....John B. Maher, of the Beach Stock Co., also went to New York.... Anna Blanche is still quite ill.....Jennie Izett has joined the Elitch Co.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACES.

Buck Massie Wins the Ocean Handicap, But is Bowled Over by Requital in the Twin City.

The Coney Island Jockey Club continued its Fall meeting at Sheepshead Bay Aug. 18, the Autumn Maiden Stakes and the Dolphin Stakes being features of the six event card provided. The third race furnished plenty of excitement, the finish between Ben Brush and Southe being close, the Dwyer entry winning by half a neck, only to be disqualified for fouling. A noteworthy feature of the day's ex-cellent sport was the performance of Sunny Slope in winning the Autumn Stakes in 1:01, remarkably fast time for a filly at five furion s with 122lb up. The Dolphin Stakes went to Golderest, the favorite, after a hard fight with Tom Cromwell. The attendance was good, and the sport was voted glit edged. Summary:

The third day, 19, was marked by a good attendance and fine sport in spite of the fact that none of the seven events brought out overly large fields. The finishes were spirited, however, and in a measure made up for what the card lacked in the num-ber of contestants. Jockey Sloan won four of the seven events, and was suspended for five days be-cause of bad behavior at the post, making him the most talked about rider of the day. The Flying Handicap, won by Refugee, was the only stake event the card afforded, six sweepstakes providing the incentive for victory in the other six races.

"They overlooked the fact that Jordan played for and won the championship from Ferrle, who, in turn, had previously defented the 'Herd Laddie' for the title." The indisputable facts are that the title and forfeit money of Wyllie's were inseparable. He lost both or none. Reed claimed the forfeit and title, and it was awarded him by the stakeholder and referee. Two years after he lost the title to Barker, who still holds it regardless of spurious claimants. Reed and Jordan can play at the title, but not for it. The match playing of Wyllie, Perrie, Jordan and Reed does not effect Barker's right to the title, because Wyllie could not lose to Ferrie what he did not possess. ... Henry Spayth recently gave what he did not possess. ... Henry Spayth recently gave the total to play is Won, 7s; lost, 15; drawn, 66. ... W. A. Muir and G. The Nuremberg Tourney.

We always did believe that there is a general interest in knowing how many games each man wins in a general melee like this, and always sided with those who have wished and argued for the entire discarding of drawn games from the count. In this case the four most amenable to this questionable way of acquiring fame, rank and ducats are Schleichter, II; Marco, 10; Marcozy and Schiffers, 9 each; the six most free from this obnoxious practice are Schallopp, I; Steinitz, 2; Lasker, Janowsky, Tachigorin and Winawer, 3 each, etc. Of course no man schillenger of the second of the secon

Let us return for a moment to the second prize winner to say that our estimate of his status is greatly strengthese the various utterances of brother chess editors. Marcory came out second only through his representation with Lasker. In wins, he only brackets sixth and seventh with Tschligorin who did not win a prize at all, as see above; though in actual losses he leads the race, having met but one, and that by Steinitz. Pity that such performances can win prizes; we have no sympathy with it!

Of the gallant, gifted Pillsbury, when we wrote that he was seriously ill at the opening of the tourney but would say nothing about it, if the other was the word of the trouble. He was the point that it was injudicious for the country of the trouble. He was the point that it was injudicious for the country with the was the west of the point that it was injudicious for my will and indomitable courage would not be denied; he went, and how gloriously he acquitted himself, despite his weakness, let the record speak.

Much stress, and justly, has been laid upon his beating as he met them in succession the next unmistakably greatest four in the lists—Tarrasch, Lasker, Tachtgorin and Steinitz. In this last case he has solved affirmatively the questio versal selfs over from St. Federaburg. To our thinking was taken and new context. firmatively the questio vexata left over from Mt. Feteraburg. To our thinking, this idea may be amplified to advantage.

The entrants to this tourney may in general terms be divided into two classes—veterans and new comers. The former, including himself, comprises ten names. Of these nine competitors Mr. P. beat the entire list—Mr. Blackburne alone excepted! All things justly weighed, we place Harry N. Pillabury to the full, at least, on a pedestal with Emanuel Lasker; and repeat that, if his health remains, come when a match may for the championship of the world the odds ought to be on the American who, in all that can be understood as masterly chess play, has shown his superiority. How many more games like this last one with Lasker do you require to prove this?

play, has shown his superiority. How many more games like this last one with Lasker do you require to prove this?

As to Janowsky, great as he has proved himself to be, he will stand still greater when, as some one has said in effect, he has learned to repress his impetuosity and subject his over vivid imagination more to the guidance of solid judgment.

Wallrodt crainly fell off a good deal from the point was the said of the subject his over vivid imagination more to the guidance of solid judgment.

Wallrodt off Steinlitz jointly led the procession. But them here we have a swell be noted, heads the list of non prize winners; and his greater compatriot, Tschigorin, must have had something gone wrong with him to come next below, or ninth, with just barely one win plus losses. The time honored veteran, Blackburne, just stood on even scale, nine to nine; but all the chess world will join in the plaudits as one man that he carried off the special prize for best score vs. the prize winners.

Herr K. Charousek (of Buda-Festh, as it turns out) heads those whose losses exceed their wins, and will be in demand for all masters' tournaments hereafter. He closed his record here in a blaze of glory and fireworks by besting Lasker summarily, and that with the glorious old Bishop's Gambit. See what we said about attacking even the greatest players. But it would be well to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr. Zukertort finished to remember how and with whom Dr.

Consting Competition.

The initial coasting contest, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Association of 'Cycling Clubs, of the Metropolitan Association of 'Oycling Clubs, was held at Cedar Grove, Montclair, N. J., on Saturday, Aug. 15, and attracted wheelmen from different sections. The hill selected for the competitions is nearly 4,600 feet in length, and the contests resulted as follow:

"Singisz.—H. A Woodward, New York, 6.257ft.; W. M. Arkman, New York, 6.218.04ft.; Hugh H. Janeway, New York, 6.29.04ft.

Tandems.—E. V. Connett Jr. and mate, Yellow Fellow Club, 5.334.04ft.; James Ely and Chester C. Henry, Chatham, 6.319.09ft.

The Annual League Meet,

Held at Louisville, Ky., Aug. 13-15, proved highly successful, both in the matter of attendance of wheelmen and the 'cycle loving public and from the standpoint of sport. About six thousand persons was the average daily attendance at the races held on the well kept Fountain Ferry track, and the contests were, almost without exception, highly interesting, and often very exciting. The interest to a large extent centred in the races for the national championship, in which the crack professionals figured, and these furnished grand sport. Tom Cooper, who saved himself for these events, was successful in three instances, capturing the one-third mile, quarter mile and two miles races in very taking style from excellent fields, while Tom Butler won the half mile and one mile champion-ships, besides outsprinting, Walter Sanger in the open mile on the first day-cooper also finished first in the race for the five miles championship, but was disqualified for fouling Bald, the race being won by W. E. Becker, the fast Chicago rider. In the early part of the contest Cooper, it is alleged, pushed Bald, who, to save himself, caught hold of Cooper's sash, but he cleared himself of the claim of foul for so doing. Louis Calibaian, who finished third, was also disqualified. Sanger was the hero of the closing day of the meet, through his winning of the two miles handlcap, in which he was scratch man, with Kennedy at twenty yards, L. Calibaian at thirty yards and Ealom at forty, thirtyen others having longer starts. He geared to 8sin, and after a most exciting finish won by two lengths, the trailers and spectators alke going wild over his victory. The scene resembled that at the Spring-through the surface of the clousylliains, and a letter of commendation was drawn up and presented to the '96 Meet Club, of that City. Summary:

Missoula, and a series of experiments are to be made that will test the utility of the wheel for use in the service where messages are to be carried long distances. Lieutenant Moss, in conversation with a reporter, spoke as follows regarding the matter:

"During the last four or five years the bicycle as a practical machine for military purposes has been attracting the attention of military purposes has been attracting the attention of military men both in this country and abroad. In foreign armies, however, the matter has been brought to a more practical stage than in this country. As early as 1870 the bicycle was used in the Italian army. In France, Austria, Switzerland and other European countries there are now in the armies regularly organized bicycle corps. Recently there have been numerous experiments made in this country both by officers of the regular army and by the National Guard. The interest in the subject has so increased that there is no doubt that in the course of the next few years every regiment in the regular army will have its bicycle corps. General Miles is an enthusiast on the subject, and in his last report recommended the organization of a regiment of bicycle infantry. I have just completed the organization of a bicycle corps of ten men at the post, which will make extensive experiments during the Summer. The work that has been laid out includes the rapid conveying of messages from Fort Missoula to other posts several hundred miles distant, the rapid establishment of signal stations, route sketching, scouting, road patrolling and reconnoissance, and practice rides over long distances with blankets, rifles, rations and shelter tents."

The cases against C. A. Bradley and A. R. Downer were first at laken. Bradley declined to appeal to the committee, but no reply had been received from A. R. Downer were from the committee proved payments of £5 and other sums to Bradley by the representatives of new prominent London clubs. Downer had also admitted payments to him in eash by two of these club's representatives. Bradley had also admitted the payments stated to have been made to him. The Northern representatives also put in evidence as to the payments of various sums of between £5 and £5 in cash, by well known Northern clubs, to both Bradley and Downer. Bradley had also asked for a cash onsiderations, by well known Northern clubs, to both Bradley and Downer. Bradley had also asked for a cash onsideration, and the state of the committee of the committee. As he had been lost, the following motion was put to the meeting and carried: 'That this committee, having heard the evidence upon which the Southern committee uspended C. A. Bradley and A. R. Downer, is fully satisfied that the charges have been fully proved, and they be and are hereby permanently suspended.'' F. E. Bacon did not appear, but, on the evidence of receipts for sums of £5 and other amounts paid to Bacon by representatives of two well known clubs, all being admitted by Bacon when he appeared before the Southern committee and the previous month, the committee passed a resolution. The committee, in his case, also passed a sentence of permanent suspension. Alexander Blair Jr., of Bradford, appeared against his suspension by the Southern committee. He stated his inability to come any conditions are the committee of permanent suspension. Alexander Blair Jr., of Bradford, appeared against his suspension by the Southern committee, the stated his age to be only nineten, and that when he was offered money to run

Is, at Philadelphia, Pa., by better all around work, when they scored their ninth victory of the series. They hit Taylor hard at opportune times, and put up a snappy fielding game. Esper, too, was touched up in a lively manner, but succeeded in keeping the hits well apart, belehanty and Hallman being the only ones among the local batsmen who could solve his delivery to any extent. Hallman's three hits included a triple bagger, and he aided materially in getting the two runs credited to the home team. Delehanty made two double baggers, while the other long safe hits were triple baggers, by Kelley and Esper, and doubles by Cross, Taylor and Brodle.

C. 1. N. Y. I. Umpire Emolie. Time, 220.

The New Yorks again won on Aug. 20, by scoring six runs in the eighth inning, after a brilliant uphill fight and defeat had stared them in the face. The Chicago took a lead by scoring five runs in the first four innings, aided by the misplays of the home team and their own timely battling. Their two triple baggers, which helped them in getting runs, should have been easy outs, but Connaughton lost the ball on each occasion in the sun, and the runners had little trouble in stretching their hits into triple baggers. When the New Yorks went to the bat in the eight inning it looked like a hopeless task for them to attempt to win at that late hour. Therman, however, raised the hopes of the enthusiasts with a drive to right centre field for three bases and scored on Joyce's single; Gleason singled, advancing Joyce to second, and each moved up a base on a passed ball. Davis was given his base on balls, Connaughton bunted and Joyce scored. Wilson hit to Dahlen, the latter threw the ball home to catch Gleason, but Lange murfed it and Gleason scored. Meekin went out at first and Davis scored. Beckley's hard drive to right field sent Connaughton and Wilson across the plate, making six runs alto

Hempstead Harbor's Sailors. The annual regatts of the Hempstead Harbor Yacht Club, of Glen Cove, L. I., was sailed on Long Island Sound, Aug. 19, in a splendid sailing breeze. Island Sound, Aug. 19, in a splendid salling breeze. The course for the larger boats was from an imaginary line drawn between two stake boats, anchored off the club house, theace to and around a red spar buoy on the Easterly end of Execution Reef; thence to and around the spar buoy off Matinicock buoy and home, a distance of twelve miles. The smaller boats were sent over a seven mile course to Execution Reef and return. The contests were made interesting by a goodly number of entries in each of the classes and a fine afternoon's sport was enjoyed. Summary:

Fatal Yachting Accident.

The annual races of the Royal Albert Yacht Club at Southsea, Eng., were interrupted on Aug. 18 by an accident which resulted in the death of Baron von Zedtwitz, owner of the Hereshoff built twenty rater, Isolde. The cabled report of the disaster von Zedtwitz, owner of the Hereshoff built twenty rater, Isolde. The cabled report of the disaster says:

The starters in the big event were the Alisa, Britannia, Meteor and Satanita, and in the small rater race The Saint, Niagars, Samphire, Audrey, The Penitent and Isolde. The large yachts had finished the first round of the course, and were just starting upon the second round, when suddenly the boats of both classes seemed to have become jammed together. The Isolde, which was sandwiched between two yachts of the larger class, received a severe blow from the Meteor, causing her mast to snap in two and fall overboard. The shock was a heavy one, causing the Isolde to careen, and as she did so all on both the same of t Racing in English Waters.

Racing in English Waters.

The annual regatta of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club began at Ryde, Eng., Aug. 11, with a match for cutters, which was won by Meteor, with Britannia, Alisa and Satanita finishing in the order given. On Wednesday, 12, Meteor again won, defeating Caress, Alisa, Satinia, Corsair and Britannia. Saint won the twenty rater race from Penitent, Samphire, Audrey and Niagara. Howard Gould's Niagara won the contest for small raters, Thursday, 13, defeating Saint, Penitent and Isolde. The cup offered by C. D. Rose was won by Meteor on that date, with Alisa second. Caress, Satinita and Britannia also started.

The Commodore's Cup was the prize offered for victory in the race sailed Friday, 14, a fifty mile cruise around the isle of Wight resulting in Isolde winning on time allowance, with Meteor second. Alisa, Satanita, Caress and Britannia also started. Isolde is a Heresshoff built twenty rater.

Alisa refused to sail a walkover in the race arranged for Saturday, 15, Satanita, the only other entry, having withdrawn. The regatta committee of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club therefore declared the race off.

The Albert Cup was the prize offered Aug. 17, by the Royal Yacht Club, of Scotland. Meteor led the fleet and won, Caress, Alisa, Corsair, Isolde and Britannia also competing.

The Alisa, Satanita and Caress engaged in a race for the prize offered by the Royal Dorset Yacht Club at Weymouth, Eng., Aug. 22, forty miles being sailed, and the Satanita winning. The annual regatta of the Royal Victoria Yacht

THE RING.

The Championship.

The Championship.

A meeting was held in this city on Aug. 24 by the parties to the Corbett-Sharkey match for the championship of the world, the object thereof being the insertion in the articles of agreement a clause stating that the match is for the championship, in addition to the purse and stakes. Corbett rightfully claims that the title of champion of the world has been forfeited by Bob Fitzsimmons, owing to the failure of the latter to accept his money backed challenge, issued in January last, and of course D. J. Lynch, representing Sharkey, offered no objection to the proposal. R. S. Thail represented Corbett, who had gone to Baltimore, Md., on business, it being understood that W. A. Brady is no longer Jim's manager, at least pugilistically.

Bob Fitzsimmons returned to this port from England on Aug. 22, on board the steamer Paris, a few sporting men gathering at the dock to bid him welcome. He stated that he had a most enjoyable time during his stay abroad, although it might not have been as pecuniarily profitable as he had anticipated. Bob still claims the championship and continues to insist that Corbett shall "get a reputation" before he will consent to meet him in the ring. As Jim is again the rightful champion, however, through default of Bob in accepting his challenge, as required by the rules, the Californian holds the key to the position and can afford to laugh at the Antipodean.

Record Smashing in England.

The Bath Road Club's annual one hundred miles race at the Catford track, London, Eng., Aug. 8, proved a record breaker. It was looked upon as in reality a match between R. Palmer and F. D. Frost, reality a match between R. Palmer and F. D. Frost, of the licensed amateur class, and so it proved. Frost went to the 4ront at once, and inside of twelve miles had lapped Palmer, whose determined efforts to recover his lost ground were not rewarded with success until ninety-three miles had been rolled up, although he caught up to Frost at thirty-six miles, and tried to pass him at forty-three and fifty-two miles, respectively. Frost being always equal to the emergency and shaking Palmer off. Eventually, however, aided by the capital pacing of the Dunlop-Silverdale combination, the latter went to the front at 93½ miles, and, staying in front, finally won a grand race by 5409ds, in the world's record time of 3h. 37m. 57%. Amateur records were beaten from ten miles to the end; all British records, of any class, from fifty-eight miles, while world records commenced to tumble long before the finish. In two hours 57 miles 375yds, were ridden, and in three hours 83 miles 245yds.

SUCCESS PHENOMENAL!

HERE IS THE RECORD!

During the season of '95-96 over 500 of our best singers used our songs with a success that speaks for itself, and to which fact the general profession will testify. As a writer of Popular and Original Novelties of the people, and the flattering reception accorded his songs throughout the country, by both press and restage songs, strictly speaking, cannot be surpassed by any other composer in this country.

The acknowledged success, and one of the bona fide "Hits" of the New York Summer season. THE NOST POPULAR JUVENILE SONG ON E STAGE TODAY. Featured by over 100 artists. The present "hit" of the ABBOTT SISTERS in London, and the leading song of CYRUS.

REOPENS SEASON 1896-97, MONDAY, AUG. 31.

All headline vaudeville artists invited to correspond. CONTINUOUS VARIETY the continuing policy NOTE.—A sale "ad." recently published in these columns has led to the misconception that the Wone a partnership in it, was for purchase. Neither the whole nor any part of the Wonderland is for sale age. What I hape to dispose of is a Summer Musee, near Rochester, N. Y., with an extensive and exhable collection of wax figures. The opportunity to secure this is still open, and I can guarantee that aser, if live and on erprising, can realize 50 per cent. on his investment inside of days.

FORD and BRATTON.

"SUNDAY NIGHT IN LOVER'S LANE."—Companion song to their famous "Paradise Alley." "ISABELLE."—Sister song to "Henrietta." "SHE ALWAYS DRESSED IN BLACK."—A decidedly demure ditty with a compliment of new verses. "LIKE A GOOD LITTLE GIRL SHOULD DO."—Serlo comic. Very catchy. And their great novelty ballad hit, "ONLY ME."—In demand everywhere. Not a sudden success, but a gradual and sure winner. A song that will outlive many others. IN PRESS.—Ford and Bratton's latest, "It's Sunshiny Weather Because We're Together," "In a Quiet Little Way."

HARRY and JOHN DILLON.

ARRY and JOHN DILLON.

"THE CODFISH BALL."—A pointed gag song appropriately subtitled. A "Fininy) de Seicle" Soiree. Interestingly funny. "ALL OVER TOWN."—A somewhat different comique story in every verse. Suitable for almost any male eccentric or character part. Music eartchy, "JOHNNY TOOK THE ONE I WANTED." A great "kid" song. Male or female version. One of the best juvenile comics written; also suitable for character eccentriques. Continued success of their ever popular "PUT ME OFF AT BUFFALO," of which we have a number of professional copies left for distribution.

MAURICE LEVI.

WHAT WOULD YOUR ANSWER BE!"—Quite popular. Neat, genteel love waitz ballad. In the repertoire of a number of leading singers. "BOYS, SHE'S A DREAM." Words by Harry Dillon. The music of this song is written in Mr. Levi's best vein, and compares very favorable with his recent success, "Poor Little Mary" and "Airy, Fairy Lillian."

DAVE REED JR.

AVE KEED JK.
"JULIENNE."—A dashing serio comic number, Very popular, "DE DARKEY CAVALIERS."—The successful companion to Mr. Reed's well known "Leader of Co. B." "BY A BROOK SAT A LADY."—(I love one love.) Properly speaking a decided novelty. Refreshingly novel. In rehearsal by prominent artists.

CHAS. LAWLOR.

"THE MAN IN THE MOON IS A LADY."—A scientific discovery told in song. A promising serio comic, by the author of "The Sidewalks of New York."

GEORGE FULLER COLDEN.

"DAD'S OLD VIOLIN."—A fine theme, grandly developed, telling of an old man's devotion for his pet instrument, introducing a clever tuning effect. "MOUNLIGHT ON THE RIVER" (Music by James F. Dolan)—A beautiful high class waltz ballad, suitable for farce comedy or concert. JOHN T. KELLY.

OHN T. KELLY.

"THE CLOCK WILL NEVER STRIKE AGAIN THE HOURS THAT HAVE PASSED."—The old story of a girl's blighted life told in a new way. Mr. Kelly's best descriptive ballad since his "Girl I Left Behind." "IF HEARTS COULD SPEAK."—Depicting a Lover's Quarrel, through some trivial grievance, with the usual results. Romanticly pretty. Some leading ballad singers are including it in their specialty. In Press: "YOUR BABY'S A COMIN' TO TOWN."—"A hot trophy." Will certainly win in the race for coon hits. Great for solo and ensemble.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT.

"LOVE REMAINS THE SAME."—Waltz ballad. "OLCOTT'S HOME SONG.—His latest genuine hit. Mr. Olcott is featuring these songs in his new play, "The Minstrel of Clare," this season, with unbounded success. JAS. McAVOY.

THE BLOW ALMOST KILLED FATHER."—The comic rage. Encored to the echo after each verse, and additional verses vocifierously demanded. (To cope with the various requests we have had 10 additional stanzas written.) "VERY SORRY TO HEAR IT."—Thoroughly "mcAvoy." An eccentrique comic song and refrain founded on a well known children's street song.

CEO. SCHLIAFFARTH.

"SHE'S THE DAUGHTER OF OFFICER PORTER."—The Cyclonic Hit. Known from coast to coast. "THINK ONCE AGAIN BEFORE WE PART."—A beautiful ballad on the "Say Au Revoir" order. Suitable for duct. Makes a fine contralto solo.

FRED HAMILL

"A NIGHT AT THE PLAY."—Intensely descriptive. In short, a separation; a reunion. Never fails to win the hearty applause of any audience to whom it is sung. "HEARTS WERE MADE TO BREAK."—A sweetly pretty idea. Flowing waltz refrain.

BOBBY MACK.

"LET GO, REILLY." (The Same Old Smile.)—A well writ-ten comic Irish story song. Any number of encore verses. "OUR OLD BLIND MULE."—A new phrase of story ballad. Catchy march chorus.

ED. ROCERS.

THE BELLE OF BRIGHTON BEACH."—A Summer ideal.
One of the best songs Mr. Rogers has ever produced, and is catchy and novel enough to gain favor.

BARNEY FACAN.

MY GAL'S A HIGH BORN LADY."—The best refined coon song Barney Fagan has ever written. THE NEW YORK SUN of Aug. 18 says: It will be the worthy successor to "I Want Yo', My Honey." Chorus once heard never forgot-ten. Already in big demand.

HATTIE STARR.

""THE FIREMAN'S DREAM."—A descriptive success which does not flavor of the "Give me your kind" order.—""DEM TANTALIZIN" LITTLE TWIN COONS."—The style of song for which this Author is famous. "Chuck" full of clever business. And the new story song, "YOU'RE SO GOOD, DADDY," for which so much is predicted. It is declared that in this, Miss Starr has written the first "Father song success" in years. A gem in every sense of the word. Bound to be a big go.

JOHN H. FUCHIUS.

"SINGING IN A TROLLEY CAR."—One of the predicted winners for the coming season. Entirely new subject treated in a manner to catch the singing masses.

THOS. LEMACK.

"MY BLACK BABY MINE."—A new darkey screnade which is rapidly coming to the front. Grand quartet effects in the chorus. Now in the repertory of some of our prominent companies. Also appropriate for single specialty.

W. T. FRANCIS.

"LOUISER."—A novel Plantation Love Ballad. Now being sung with great success. The name of W. T. Francis will warrant for catchy music. PALMER and LORAINE.

"EXCEPTING JACK."—Popular ballad, with quartet chorus ad lib. Story of a black sheep with happy denouncement. "GENTLEMAN JOE."—A perfectly descriptive song depicting the pathetic side of lower five life. "Gentleman Joe" is a song, what flarrigan's "Old Lavendar" was to the stage.

EDGAR SELDEN.

"IDON'T BELIEVE IT'S TRUE."—A very pleasing waltz ballad. Tried and proven a go. Splendid waltz chorus. "PLL TELL MY BIG BROTHER ON YOU."—A good juvenile song. Effective chorus. Can be sung "child fashion." L. F. COTTSCHALK.

"LAUGH AND THE WORLD LAUGHS WITH YOU."-Mr. Gottschalk's grand musical setting to Ella Wheeler Wil-cox's famous poem. Proclaimed by all who hear it a work of musical art. Suitable for bass or barlone. THEO. WESTMAN.

"BEAUTIFUL STELLA."—A song in the same class as "Marguerite," and will eventually become as well known. In PRESS, by the same composer, "Sweet Annabel." (Song with waitz refrain.) DENNIS MACKIN.

"THE AIRY, FAIRY LITTLE GIRL WHO LOVES ME." By the composer of "Mamle, My Darling," "Simply Friends," "Then Say Good Bye." Possesses a peculiarly constructed refrain that is so vastly different from others that if fasci-nates the listener. IN PRESS.—Mr. Mackin's new de-scriptive story ballad, "THE LIGHTS OF A LITTLE VIL-LAGE." NAT D. MANN.

AT D. MANN.

"ALL IN A LIFE TIME." Two keys. Words by Walter Ford. A high class gem, yet taking enough to become a popular favorite. "MAYM, MAYM, COME TELL ME THAT YOU LOVE ME." A somewhat popular song, thoroughly revised; chorus retained, but a much better first part substituted. A song of the day.—"CLIMB DE GOLDEN FENCE." Chorus by Hattle Starr. A pickaniany gambol with dance ad lib. Excellent for serio comic, soubrette or ensemble. Quite a go. "Continued success of Mr. Mann's burlesque swell song, "WHAT RIGHT HAS HE ON BROADWAY." Words by Harry Dillon. New edition of orchestrations just issued.

ILMORE and I FONADD

CILMORE and LEONARD.

"NEW YORK TOWN." A well written local ballad lauding the good qualities of the metropolis. "DOWN TO CONEY ISLE." A splendid little waltz song describing a trip to that famous resort. IN PRESS—"HOGAN'S HOME AGAIN." A rollicking Irish character song.

CHAS. ARNOLD. DAVE FITZCIBBONS.

"SEND ME A PICTURE OF THE OLD HOME."—Pathetic plea of a sister who feels that her path is the other way. Touching sentiment and well wedded music. Fine for descriptive ballad singers. "BELLE OF POVERTY FLATS."—A song that has created a great amount of popular comment; one of the best since "Paradise Afley." "WHEN MY SWEETHEART SMILES."—A little love ballad of the present day; quaint words, entrancing music. "A LITTLE RAY OF SUNSHINE."—All that the title Implied; one of the best they have written.

HORWITZ and BOWERS.

"THERE ARE THINGS THAT CANNOT BE EXPLAINED,"

One of the few topical songs that came into prominence, Subject treated in an original manner, and music as catchy as catchy could be. Lots of calls for this.

ALF. HAMPTON. JAC. SILBERBERG.

"MY DONAH MOLL."—Words printed in dialect. Pretty story of coster life. Music of chorus caught after first hearing. IN PRESS—"THE DESERT WAY."—An Arabina love song which will certainly become a "standard."
"LITTLE NELL O'BRIEN."—An East Side love ditty on the order of liampton's "Sadie Ryan." "DAT'S ME."—An Octoroon song of love. Very catchy.

EDCAR STRAKOSCH.

"DEAR GOLDEN DAYS." Words by Walter Ford. One of the best typical waitz songs written lately. Fine opening selection for soprano.

H. C. RENCHARD & CO.,

103 Abbott Street, Detroit, Mich.

TO BICYCLISTS:

Many of those who have made the discovery have requested us to notify wheelmen generally that there is no better chain lubricant than Ivory Soap; it is the most cleanly application and is perfect for this use.

THE PROCTER & GAMBLE CO.

The vegetable oils of which Ivory Soap is made, and its purity, fit it for many special uses for which other soaps are unsafe and unsatisfactory. Ivory Soap is sold by more dealers and used in more households than any other.
